

Our Monterey Correspondence.

MONTRAY, Dec. 1, 1858.

Sheriff Loses in Monterey—Strange Course of the American Consul—State of the Country—A Protracted Lengar for Justice on San Luis—Murder of Mr. Glens—The Consul Refuses to Give the Wilsons a Copy of the Tex. Army, &c., &c.

Since my last other important scenes have occurred, of which I will give you a passing notice. Another forced man was placed on the whole population a few days since, the foreigners, as usual, suffering the largest imposed losses, excepting those who are monopolized with the powers that be. Our Consul is served and sent word to all the American residents to "cross the bar," and that the one imposed on him would "not pay," and consequently urged the solemn protest of all American citizens. When brought to the test, some for who were led away by the intriguing schemes of the Consul, protested, and at the instant moment, it is true, that had just passed the United States Consul, who do you think of such refined diplomacy? but such is the fact.

A quarantine was established last week, prohibiting the entry to the city of wagons laden with goods from Matamoras, from the fact of Matamoras being infested with the plague. This was done under the authority of the Consul, who has a right to impose what he thinks best for the safety of the informata. In addition, Mr. Donnelly issued the entire democratic vote in Warren county, the initial L. being omitted from his name.

The will. The case was argued and submitted to the Supreme Court for decision.

In the matter of the estate of Andrew S. Norwood, deceased—the executors have filed their account, and the same is contested upon the following grounds: The testator named the real estate to be held in trust, and the proceeds derived therefrom to be distributed among his heirs, and the testator left a large real and personal estate, and the executors have collected quite a large amount of rent. They have not yet sold the real estate. The counsel for the United States, including state stamps, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1858—
